

BULGARIA TO TURN CANNON UPON TURKEY

ed to a panic. The alarm brought forth the instant demand that "something be done."

A despatch to the Daily Mail from The Hague says the demand is for some body possessing the confidence of the Germans and their allies to replace the present military obligation.

All reports indicate a decided cleavage between the Junker and conservative classes and the class represented by the Socialists and Radicals, who have the support of some Centrists and even National Liberals.

Emperor William's belated anxiety for the people to cooperate in the government evidently will be distasteful to the Junkers, one of whose foremost newspapers, the Kreuzzeitung, declares that a dictatorship is the only possible alternative. On the other hand the demand of the popular parties is for a popularly elected cabinet.

The effect of the resignations of Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Secretary von Hintze on the public agitation is not yet reported and nothing is known as to how the terms of the Bulgarian surrender have affected the German people if they have been permitted to know the terms.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—It was the fear of revolution at home and the failure of Germany and Austria to send him the military force he required that induced King Ferdinand of Bulgaria to turn to the entente for help, according to the American consul general at Sofia—Dominick Murphy—as quoted in a despatch to the Martin from Saloniki.

The consul general, the despatch states, gave interesting details on his arrival at Saloniki from Sofia in company with the Bulgarian plenipotentiaries of the conditions in the Bulgarian capital leading up to the demand for an armistice. King Ferdinand, the account declares, assembled the grand council, a formal demand was made on Berlin and Vienna for immediate assistance. Notwithstanding the urgent tone of the demand, Germany and Austria responded with evasive promises for the future.

That, the account continues, settled the determination of King Ferdinand to turn to the entente for help. The king most count indignation to the revolution. The king most count indignation to the revolution.

Whether the king will depose his cabinet, it is said, depends on the entente. The king is with the entente. The king is with the entente.

Hearty endorsement of the acceptance by their leaders. The king is with the entente. The king is with the entente.

2500 RED CROSS MASKS MADE ON RUSH ORDER

A rush order for 2500 contagious ward masks was completed in forty-eight hours by the Oakland chapter of the Red Cross. The order was received late Saturday night. These masks necessitate careful and tedious work; they have to be cut, folded, stitched on four sides, and a tape sewed on each corner.

Mrs. Robert Glenn, chairman of surgical dressings, sent out a hurry call to her workers and 125 women answered at once, worked all day Monday and Tuesday, finishing the allotment tonight.

Friedmont, Hayward and Kahn's branches helped out with the work.

Roy Sieber, well known in Oakland several years ago as a man about town, is dying in New York of Spanish influenza, according to word received today by friends at the Hotel Oakland, where he made his home while in Oakland. Certain to be very great on the part of the Bulgarians.

As a result military experts here today declared that Germany's efforts to resist troops under Von Mackensen have come too late. It is true, they say, that the German field marshal, with certain divisions, has been in some at present. But he can hardly maintain his position there, handicapped as he is with poor communications and increasingly difficult situation in Rumana, where an actual German revolt already is assuming good proportions.

So well convinced are officials here that all of the advantage is with the entente that they are speculating on the next move. There was general hope expressed in many quarters today that it will be against Turkey, which was described as "a ripe opportunity after the frost had hit it—ready to fall at the slightest touch."

It was believed here by the military experts that if the army of General Franche d'Esperey should be turned toward Thessalonika in a formidable movement toward Turkey, that would mean an unconditional surrender and it would not be necessary to actually commence operations. These officials declare that the movement to follow Bulgaria's example has been reported in the despatches last Saturday night, is much more powerful than any official advices indicate.

Only personal appeals by the German leaders and the young Turks, who are in the pay of the Kaiser, has held Turkey in line until now they say. And these officials, who are in receipt of much confidential information dealing with the Turkish situation, say that even now Turkey is only waiting to see whether Germany can carry out any serious reprisals on Bulgaria before asking for terms. But if she does not ask for terms the elimination of Turkey will be a very easy task, as the can now be attacked in force from Thrace, Asia Minor and Mesopotamia.

To the Public:

By reason of a decision of the Cooks' and Waiters' Alliance, a walkout by the cooks and waiters has been ordered. As owner of the Saddle Rock Restaurant, I feel in duty bound to keep the doors open and continue to serve the public.

During the past summer there was much discussion between the Cooks' and Waiters' Alliance and the Restaurant Keepers' Association as to wages and working hours. At the suggestion of the Alliance, the matter was finally submitted to a Board of Arbitration, consisting of Mr. William A. Spooner, secretary of the Union; Mr. Robert W. Martland, selected by the Union; Mr. B. Cross of the University of California; and Prof. Ira B. Cross of the University of California.

After a careful consideration of the entire agreement satisfactory to both sides, which agreement has been operated under, and adhered to, since and the existing agreement, and in apparent disfavor of the Alliance, about the middle of September, with notice that on and after October 1st of this year, these entirely different conditions. If this demand be acceded to an increase, at a largely increased cost to the restaurant for an increased wage, it does entail, as before, an added cost, of course, must be met by the restaurant. The demand to me seems utterly unreasonable of the decision of the Board of Arbitration being no change, or economical reasons, that making this demand.

by the Cooks' and Waiters' Alliance should be refused, as a mere "scrap of paper," to be re-issued, done all that I consider possible for me to demand, having gone even so far as to appeal though earnest, have availed me nothing, and if it is by reason of the walkout, I respectfully request, and assure them that within a few days, under the best of conditions. Respectfully submitted,

Reprisals Promised Germany

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The American government, in reply to Germany's threat to execute American prisoners of war found in possession of shotguns, today gave notice that if Germany carries out any such threat suitable reprisals will be taken.

Secretary Lansing's reply declares that the use of shotguns is sanctioned by the Hague conventions, and that in comparison with other weapons now used in modern warfare, the shotguns used by the American troops cannot be the subject of legitimate or reasonable protest.

"If the German government should carry out its threat in a single instance," says Secretary Lansing's reply, "it will be the right and duty of the United States to make such reprisals as will best protect the American forces and notice is hereby given of the intention of the government of the United States to take such reprisals."

Two Steamships Are Kept in Port

Lack of engine room crews and other trouble is keeping two steamships in a Pacific port, although they are loaded and have full deck crews. In one case a crew was sent from San Francisco, but after a few minutes aboard the vessel trouble started and the men all went ashore.

The engines of one of the vessels have been damaged and an investigation is being conducted in the belief that some pro-German in the crew is responsible.

COOKS, WAITERS
ASK 8-HR. SHIFT

Members of the Cooks and Waiters' Alliance, Oakland Local, are today working an eight-hour shift, in accordance with a recently taken and, with a notice to that effect served upon the Restaurant Keepers' Association. The restaurant men have refused to grant the eight-hour demand of their employees and so the latter will, upon the expiration of an eight-hour shift, knock off work for the day.

The members of the Cooks and Waiters' Union do not consider their action as being in the nature of a strike, and their leaders repudiate the suggestion that it can be considered such. The restaurant men, to the contrary, term the action a walkout and are prepared to treat it as such.

They say that while the present "walkout," as they phrase it, does not call for an increased wage, it does entail an added cost of operation—an added cost, by the way, which is to be paid by the public by a raise in the prices on the bills of fare.

They also state that the action of the cooks and waiters is in direct contravention with the wage and working agreement now in force, and say that to grant the demand of the employees would entail an entire readjustment of the restaurant business at a largely increased cost.

The present scale was signed on July 15, at the conclusion of a conference in which the matter in dispute was arbitrated by a board consisting of W. A. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council, representing the cooks and waiters, Robert W. May, representing the Restaurant Keepers' Association, and Prof. J. B. Cross of the University of California, who was selected by them as the third member of the board.

Governor Stephens Speaks in City Hall

Governor William D. Stephens scheduled address for the City Hall Plaza at noon today under the auspices of the Liberty loan committee, was delivered in the lobby of the City Hall because of the noon shower.

The governor made a stirring patriotic appeal to his audience, which numbered possibly 100 persons standing in the lobby, on the stairway and around the balcony, to subscribe to the fourth Liberty loan to the extent of every individual's ability and without cognizance of personal sacrifice, excepting that of absolute necessity. Governor Stephens made a virulent attack upon the pernicious activities of the I. W. W. and promised the audience that at the next session of the state legislature laws would be passed which would drive this vicious element out of California entirely and make it impossible for it to ever return.

To Ban Penalty on Motherhood
Ordinance Aimed at Landlords

An ordinance to protect families in which there are children from being ousted from apartment houses and dwellings in Oakland by landlords who are taking advantage of the present abnormal demand for places to rent will be introduced by Commissioner F. E. Jackson. Commissioner Jackson received information today that a number of families have been given notice to move because there were children in the household, the landlords having found they could get tenants who had no children.

"This is placing a penalty upon parenthood," declared Dr. Jackson. "I understand that an ordinance prohibiting landlords from ousting persons who have children, and prohibiting them from refusing to rent to persons just because there are children in the family has been passed and is in effect in New York and certain other cities in the east. In the present emergency here, it appears that we have need of a similar ordinance."

"We are having an influx of war industry workers. The larger number and the better class of these men are men of families. And yet when they come here they are given to understand that they can find no place in which to live. If they have brought children into the world to give citizens to this nation in the future."

"I have received report of a case today in Oakland where a woman has been notified that she would have to vacate her apartments when an expected child was born to her."

"I am taking the matter up with the city attorney, and will have him prepare an ordinance that will cover the situation. We cannot permit this penalty to be placed upon motherhood, and if there is any way to get at it legally, we will do so through this ordinance."

AFTER CHASE

A man giving his name as Ed. Smith, supposed to hail from Denver, was captured today after seizing a Red Cross penny-box in the lobby of the Orpheum. The theater attaches held him until the arrival of the police. He was lodged in the city prison.

The man had come to the box-office, according to Earl McQuerrin, ticket seller, as if to buy a ticket, then seized the penny box and fled. The police say the prisoner was under the influence of a drug.

Miss Frances Herrod writes Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York as follows: "I am very glad to tell you that I am more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of the J. B. L. Cascade, and am in better health than I have been in years."

This is but one of thousands of the same kind of letters received by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, the inventor of the "J. B. L. Cascade." By a purely natural process of property using warm water, the "J. B. L. Cascade" removes all the poisonous waste from the lower intestine, which physicians agree is the cause of 95 per cent of all human ailments.

The Owl Drug Co.'s stores have filled with an enormous demand for "J. B. L. Cascade" in the past few years, and will show and explain it to you on request. A free and interesting booklet on "Internal Bathing—Why Man of Today is Only 50 per cent Efficient"—can be obtained at the stores free of any cost. Advertisement.

Results of Tanlac—Gains
Twenty Pounds.

"Some wonderful things happen in this world, and the way Tanlac has restored my health and built me up is one of them," said Mrs. Paul Tobolt of 818 California ave., Butte, Mont., in one of the most interesting and remarkable statements ever published in connection with the Master Medicine.

"My trouble started about two years ago," she continued, "and I have simply been a nervous wreck since until now. Last January I went to the hospital where I was told that my whole system had become poisoned and affected with appendicitis, that an operation was imperative. I was so nervous that I would not let my children care for me, in case I should not see them again, and submitted to the operation. My operation was done with so much skill, and I was so carefully nursed that I finally got out of the hospital, and was home with my husband and children again. Then I picked up wonderfully for a little more than a month when I began having terrible pains in my back over my kidneys. My appetite left me, and nothing tasted right. I was constipated, had fearful headaches and was so nervous I could hardly sleep. I felt off until I weighed less than a hundred pounds and was so weak that it was an effort for me to get about at all."

"Finally my husband suggested that I try Tanlac, and it was before long I was talking about, and the results have astonished us both. I couldn't see much improvement on my own, but with the second my appetite got better, I commenced to feel improved and was surprised when I got on the scales, and found that I had gone up to one hundred and eight pounds. Well, the third bottle I took, and my backache and pains of all pain and headache and making me want to eat up everything. I now—making a gain of more than twenty pounds on three bottles—and I'm wondering what my fourth bottle will do for me. I sleep like a healthy child, never waking at night at all and feel like I could eat five or six meals a day. I dismissed my hired help, four weeks ago, after eighteen months' steady service, and since then I have done all my own housework, cooking and everything. I have no more dull, drowsy, fretful and ill. It is a pleasure to me. I can't praise Tanlac enough for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

Anna Barrientos

At last there is a player piano that brings to the home real, personally produced, artistic music—
At last there is a player piano that brings to the tired man or woman that relaxation and tonic that only the personal creation of real music affords—

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleaned and in proper working order old age can be deferred for the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL HAMMILL OIL has been curing the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL HAMMILL OIL is enclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 3 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL HAMMILL OIL Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your drug store and get a box of GOLD MEDAL HAMMILL OIL Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three capsules. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.—Advertisement.

Some of the 2500 young men inducted into government service at the University of California are shown here. Raising the flag to which the men pledged their lives also is shown.

3000 Eastbay Boys Get Oath Students Take Pledge at U. C.

Three thousand students in the institutions of learning in the Eastbay cities were inducted into service this morning at 9 o'clock when the United States government officially took charge of the military training in the University of California. St. Mary's College and the Oakland Technical high school. Simultaneously throughout the nation 150,000 young men took the oath of allegiance to the country, pledging their honor and life to its service. Five hundred selected universities and colleges in the United States have been designated as the training camps for men who will bear their part in the world's fight for democracy. In California, besides the Oakland and Berkeley training camps, Stanford University and Santa Clara College have been selected for military instruction.

With the Stars and Stripes waving over their heads and messages from President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker ringing in their ears, the 2500 of the youth of California were this morning formally inducted into the service of the United States in army and navy units established at the University of California.

Standing on the steps of the university already dedicated to the needs of the nation through the School of Military Aeronautics, the embryo soldiers and sailors held allegiance to the nation's flag at one of the most impressive ceremonies ever staged on the campus.

ARE NEEDED OVER THERE.
"They are waiting for you over there," was the greeting to the future fighters voiced by President Benjamin H. Wheeler, one of the most glorious opportunities ever offered young men in the history of the country. They are waiting for you at the front with one and three-quarter million of men already there. With two and one-half million at Christmas they will still be fighting and they will still be waiting for you. Waiting to deliver the knockout blow. With 5,000,000 men next June they will surely deal that blow and most of you will be there to help.

"Bulgaria has thrown down arms," continued Dr. Wheeler. "That means that Turkey is isolated and the old story of the Baghdad railway is a dead one. Now comes the time of bitter fighting. The battle has just begun. You men of 1918 will have the greatest chance God has ever given for human aid in this cause and to destroy despotism and establish freedom for all mankind. Be worthy of your opportunity. Go forth and fight!"

Professor Henry Morse Stephens, dean of the college of letters and sciences, addressed the new students and briefly, urging them to be both good scholars and good soldiers.

"There is no inconsistency in being a student and a soldier at the same time," he said. "The army of the United States is not a machine-made army. It is an intelligent army obeying because it knows it ought to obey. An army trained as you will be, the most invincible army in the world. There never was anything like it before."

Standing at attention in civilian clothes, their uniforms not yet furnished, the student soldiers of the student army took its place in California hall as greetings were extended by the university heads. Occasional places of honor on the platform facing the student soldiers were: President Benjamin H. Wheeler, Professor Charles Mills, United States commander of the naval unit at the university; Lieutenant Colonel E. B. Hunter, commander of the school of military aeronautics, and other officers of the aviation school.

Captain Samuel A. Purviance, United States infantry, administered the oath which was taken by 2500 men at St. Mary's college. The message from President Wilson was read and followed by a stirring program of patriotic addresses, which were given by Professor Henry Morse Stephens, Colonel William Lassiter, commander of the students' army training corps; Rear-Admiral Charles A. Gove, commander of the naval unit at the university; Lieutenant Colonel E. B. Hunter, commander of the school of military aeronautics, and other officers of the aviation school.

The center in the Oakland Technical high school joined in the ceremonies which inducted 140 men training in the mechanical branches into government service today. The raising of the flag was followed by the oath of allegiance administered by Captain C. N. Clark, United States infantry, in command at the Technical training camp. Principal Fisher sounded the fire alarm which permitted his school body to participate in the impressive patriotic exercises. Rev. Albert W. Palmer, working with the Y. M. C. A., and Mayor John Davis delivered addresses. At the conclusion of the formal program a review and review was held on the athletic field.

POLICE CHIEF GETS $5; HIGHWAYMAN!

A report that highwaymen were masquerading in police uniforms and holding up innocent automobile parties on the Moraga road was brought to the Oakland police department early this morning by Gilbert Knies, 386 West street, and Millie Trent, 6445 Colby street. They said they had been accosted out on the road while in an automobile, and had been forced to give up $5 to a policeman in an automobile. A police scouting party from Oakland, Chief of Police Burton F. Becker of Piedmont, and asked him to assist in the pursuit of the bandits, explaining to him the circumstances.

"I guess I'm the bandit, and here's the $5," said Chief Becker. "We heard a row down in this automobile, heard a girl scream, and went to investigate. I told the young fellow to show up in court in the morning and took $5 away from him to assure his making an appearance, as he promised to explain the situation."

Three Autos Crash; Several Are Hurt

E. H. Porter, 1625 West street, suffered a concussion of the brain as the result of being thrown from his automobile when it collided with Moss and Piedmont avenues with a taxicab driven by Ben Hunter, 2148 Broadway. He was taken to the Pacific Hospital where he is under treatment.

F. M. Young, 1000 Park street, Alameda, was slightly injured in an automobile collision when the machine in which he was riding with J. C. Schroeder collided with an auto driven by James Taylor at Fifteenth and Clay streets.

Several persons were slightly hurt last night when Mrs. Helen Hurlow, 1078 Fifty-fourth avenue, saved Sewall Burgo, a 12-year-old boy living at 1432 Sixty-ninth avenue, by steering her machine into a telephone pole to avoid striking him.

This Will Remove Hair or Fuzzy Growths

(Toilet Tips)
A safe, certain method for ridding the skin of ugly, hairy growths is as follows: Mix a paste with equal parts of powdered talc and water, apply to hairy surface about two minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is entirely harmless and seldom requires re-peeling, but to avoid disappointment it is advisable to see that you get genuine Delatone.—Advertisement.

OAKLAND POSTAL STAFF INCREASED

Oakland's growth and the consequent added needs of the Oakland postoffice have been recognized by the postal department in Washington and Postmaster Joseph Rosborough has received from the postmaster general authority to make staff improvements desired for a long time. These changes have been made, and it is expected by the postmaster that there will be a decided improvement in the mail department as a result.

Since Ralph Faneuf, formerly superintendent of mails but now in the American army in France left to go to the Mexican border with the National Guard troops there has been no mail superintendent, the work having been done by Assistant Superintendent S. E. Wagner. By the authority just received from Washington, Postmaster Rosborough has named a superintendent of mails in the person of James R. Fahey, for eighteen years in the postal service, much of the time as an inspector in the western division.

Wagner remains as first assistant superintendent, and the personnel of the department has been increased by the addition of a second assistant superintendent, a place newly created, and filled by Chester R. West, formerly a floorman in the Oakland office. West's place as foreman is taken by Earl Rodriguez.

AMERICANISM DEFINED.

Hon. Maurice T. Dooling, judge of the United States District Court, in a recent address on Americanism before the Bohemian Club of San Francisco, gave expression to sentiments worthy of the high character and splendid patriotism of the distinguished speaker. In times past public men when touching upon certain subjects, for reasons well understood, have too frequently felt restrained. It is refreshing, therefore, to hear truths from one not afraid to speak out plainly when dealing with present-day problems.

"Americanism," declared Judge Dooling, "is something of an abstraction and hard to define. To me it means the great common spirit that everywhere pervades the land; the spirit of individual liberty, properly protected and only restrained."

Recounting the high aims and lofty purposes of our forefathers in founding this Republic, the distinguished speaker eloquently set forth the causes that led to the establishment of religious liberty. In these days when bigotry occasionally crops up the words carry an added significance.

"Warned by the wrecks of the past," he declared, "they liberated religion from bondage to the temporal power, separated church from state, and blotted from the statute books the crimes of non-conformity. They quenched the fires that persecution had kindled, prevented the enactment of any law to compel adherence to a specific form of worship, disestablished churches and removed religious disabilities; abolished all forced contributions to the maintenance of ecclesiastical authority; gave equal protection to every form of religious belief, and restrained forever the power of the government from being enlisted against the adherents of any sect or creed, protecting with equal impartiality the mosque of the Mussulman and the altar of the fire worshipper, the Jewish synagogue and the Roman cathedral."

The eminent jurist hurled a challenge to those who seek to array class against class by proclaiming that opportunity is limited, and the avenues of wealth and distinction open only to the privileged class. "There is no boy in America today," he declared, "however humble his birth or in what depths of poverty his lot may be cast, who, if he have but a clear head, a strong arm and a brave heart, may not rise by the freedom of our laws and the liberality of our people, until he stands with the foremost in the honor and estimation of his country."

In his peroration Judge Dooling dwelt upon the Americanization of America, and his words, significant and timely, were received with the most striking demonstrations of approval.

"When not aroused we are a patient, long-enduring, easy-going people, and sinister forces have been at work among us, the full effects of whose evil activities we but dimly begin to see. Aside from the winning of the war, no more important duty now lies before us than to Americanize America; to bring every one within our borders to a realization of the fact that if he remains here he must adapt himself to our institutions and conform to our laws; to suppress every lawless organization whatsoever its name or pretended reason for existence, and whether its lawlessness find expression in the wanton slaughter of spectators at a parade or the maiming of housewives, unprotected in common carriers that have fallen under the ban."

The speech struck a responsive chord, setting an example that may inspire others to discuss with equal frankness, if not eloquence, the live problems that today confront the nation.

John Winter Davis, the new American ambassador to England, is described as a tall, striking-looking man, clean shaven, with good features, iron-gray hair "and the assurance that comes from a comfortable fortune and freedom from monetary anxiety." He has been a member of Congress, and for five years was the United States solicitor general. He is new to the profession of diplomacy, but so were William M. Page, his predecessor, and Joseph H. Choate. The new minister is a native of Virginia, where he is said to have as many friends among Republicans as among Democrats. It is also said that had he consented to enter the primaries for United States senator, as he was urged to do, he would probably have had no opposition.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

President Wilson in his speech to the Senate yesterday summarized the essentials of the suffrage question in Congress when he said:

"We have made partners of the women in this war; shall we admit them only to a partnership of suffering and sacrifice and toil and not to a partnership of privilege and right?"

When the simple justice of the proposition is considered there can be but one honest answer to the President's query. The Senate should have passed the suffrage amendment resolution months ago. The fact that the suffrage agitators at Washington, with their picketing of the White House and other disgraceful conduct, confirmed the opposition of some members of the Senate does not relieve that body of the odium of evading the issue and permitting the suffrage resolution to serve as an instrument of obstruction to more important national business. The President's statement of the suffrage case is clear and conclusive. His advice ought to be promptly followed.

However, the President was not exact in stating all the details of the history of the suffrage fight in the Senate. "There can be no party issue involved in it," he said. "Both of our great parties are pledged, explicitly pledged, to equality of suffrage for the women of the country." Suffrage has been made a party issue. And the Democratic majority of the Senate, largely the Democrats of the Southern States, have all along been the irreconcilable opponents of the amendment. It is these members of the President's party who have stood in the way and made the leaders of the suffrage forces fearful of bringing their resolution to a final vote.

Out of the forty Republican senators, thirty-three are pledged to vote, and have all along been ready to vote, for the amendment. Thus over five-sixths of the Republican membership are pledged to equal suffrage, with the remainder probably for the resolution on final vote. The majority of the Democratic side is opposed to votes for women. It was to them the President's address was specially directed, and it perhaps would have been more in harmony with the true circumstances if he had spoken to Democrats in caucus, rather than to the whole body of the Senate in formal sitting.

The history of the equal suffrage movement, however, is not now important. Above all the arguments pro and con rises the essential justice of according women an equal share in the rights and privileges of the democracy that has become a guide for all the free peoples of the earth and the hope of all oppressed peoples. The President has indicated to the recalcitrant Democratic majority of the Senate its plain duty.

EXPLOITING RAINFALL.

Early September rains have caused some damage to some of the fruit and food crops of California. Prunes have been rather heavily hit. Some of the prune orchards will not more than pay the cost of operation for the season. Others will fare more lightly. There are fears and claims that the bean crop is or will be heavily damaged. By those who cultivate the markets rather than the soil it is said that the rice crop has been hurt.

These are normal misfortunes of agriculture and are usually discounted by the wise farmer by planting a variety of crops. California farmers are normally intelligent and have not been in the habit of putting "all their eggs in one basket." While the loss of foodstuff is lamentable it is not irreparable, and there will be no bankruptcy proceedings on account of rainfall.

There is a bright side to the unseasonable rains. After three dry years a season of heavy rains and snows will mean millions of dollars in agricultural wealth next year. The fruit trees need a heavy fall and winter watering. The watersheds of the State need replenishment. The land suffers for a long-deferred "soaking." All signs are favorable for a long, wet winter. In the mountains the old Indian omens are to be observed everywhere: pine and cedar cones, acorns—all kinds of forest mast—are more plentiful than has been known in many years; the big chipmunk is abnormally fat and still storing provender; the robber gray squirrel is watching the woodpecker with unusual interest. Indian weather forecasts are as good as any others and more reliable than a great many.

Farmers generally will welcome a winter of heavy rains. With characteristic optimism the farmer will pocket his loss in prunes and beans and rice and form his plans for heavy crops in 1919 and the years following. More bountiful yields will come from the soil. When it rains now it rains dollars, albeit some values already in the soil may be destroyed.

The evil thing to guard against at this time is the profiteer. There is already talk about a "boost" in the prices of prunes and beans. Yet the prune growers have gone on record as declaring that the price now received for their product is high enough, and everybody knows that beans are selling at almost extortionate prices. There is danger that the market cultivators and exploiters will try to pervert the blessed rainfall into a calamity in order to squeeze more revenue out of the consumers.

NOTES and COMMENT

The San Bernardino Index gives you your choice: Work or Fight. Either build something that will lick the Kaiser or go in the trenches and help lick him.

The fact that a Chinese has been commissioned an officer of the line may be taken as a sign that the ingredients in the melting pot are fusing. If young Chew proves himself, the racial handicap is not likely to be counted against him, especially over there.

Considerable of an idea—ten United States ships, whose launching impends, to be named after ten cities in this district which go over their quotas in the Fourth Liberty Loan. The cities would strive any way, but this is an added incentive.

It seems that Brazil has just got around to legalizing official documents drawn on typewriters. Considering the universal use of this appliance by almost every other civilized country, this act is singularly belated. Such large numbers of bodies are taken prisoner by the various armies on the western front as to suggest that they are not desperately objecting. Being allies' prisoners is the first soft thing they have come up with in more than four years.

The Belgians are no doubt in high feather over recapturing part of their own country from the invading Hun. They have hung on that little corner with grim determination, and now furnish a striking illustration of the turning of the worm.

The Hun objection to the shotgun as a war weapon, and the protest against its use sent this government, may be outdone somewhere for sheer gall, but it is doubtful. If an attempt were made to sum up the infractions of the Hague rules by the Germans the list would be long, indeed. The saved-off shotgun has just begun to square the score, even if it is on the taboo list.

If anybody should say that it is drawing it fine to arrest a man for not removing his hat when the band plays "Star Spangled Banner," he can't bolster up the argument when it is shown that the hat-wearer gets mad and raises a ruction because somebody suggests it. All such acts are indications of how the person feels on the subject of patriotism.

No man has written more informally of the situation and the Hun attitude than James W. Gerard, who spent three years of the war in Berlin as the American Ambassador. It is fortunate that we have him with us in this loan drive.

The Senate would take a recess if the suffrage matter was definitely out of the way. It seems to be a piece of legislation which the senators can't let go of, nor yet maintain their hold upon with any success.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Reports from San Francisco are that Willis H. Booth will be a candidate for the Senate again in 1920. He evidently figures that he will stand a better show running against Senator Phelan than he did against Hiram W. Johnson. First, however, he must qualify for the Republican nomination. There may be other aspirants from Southern California. It seems a bit early to talk about candidates for 1920, but early publicity is sometimes helpful.—River-side Press.

It has been announced that our President will fix the price of cotton, so there is no need for the cotton growers of the Imperial valley to worry. Our President will see the thing through in the real American way, and with true American fashion, and all the 100 per cent Americans in this part of the valley are going to show their colors by abiding thereby willingly and cheerfully—the other kind have to abide by it, so instead of worrying about the price, use the same energy to pick the pretty fluffy stuff and getting it to the gin.—Holtville Tribune.

YANKEE INGENUITY.

Scarcely a day passes but that the news reports tell us of some new evidence of the application of Yankee ingenuity to the prosecution of the war. The latest sample is credited to an Indian contingent which successfully tried out setting bear traps in No Man's Land. The Indians were simply applying an idea of their own west, where big game is plentiful. The traps are placed outside the American wire, and when Fritz crawls out to gain a little information he gets caught. Another truly American idea which is saving many lives in the front lines is the so-called "buckshot squads." These squads are made up of crack trapshooters. Instead of directing their efforts on clay pigeons they deflect the hand grenades which the Germans hurl toward their trenches. The force of a full charge of buckshot on a Mills bomb, for instance, is to make it fall many yards short of the object for which it was intended. It explodes, of course, but outside the trench, and the steel particles fly harmlessly over the heads of the men. Thus a popular American sport has been directed toward winning the war.—Pittsburg Sun.

INCOME TAX ON PRESIDENTS AND POTENTATES

Charles E. Hughes, who was President Wilson's rival in the last Presidential election, is understood to hold that any attempt to tax the salary of the President, of the members of his cabinet and of the judges of the Federal courts is unconstitutional, since it would be a diminution of the compensation which is guaranteed to them during the term of their office. But it is a fact, I believe, that the President alone was exempted by the income tax law of 1913, and that the Vice-President, his cabinet officers and the Federal judges have been forced to pay. The rulers of most foreign nations are exempt from the payment of taxes of this kind. When the income tax was first established in England, in 1842, it was so unpopular that although the sovereign had been exempted from its payment, Queen Victoria, on the advice of her prime minister, Sir Robert Peel, voluntarily announced her intention of paying the tax on her civil list and on her private fortune. But then Queen Victoria's civil list amounted to close upon $3,000,000 all told, in addition to which she had a very large private fortune and all the revenues of her duchy of Lancaster. She was a very rich woman and could well afford to pay. Her example in this respect has been followed by her two successors on the throne, the present king and his father, Edward VII, it being thoroughly understood that this refusal to make use of their exemption was a contribution toward the relief of the burdens of taxation resting upon the shoulders of their people.

The late king, from motives of policy, went a step further. After he had been a couple of years on the throne he gave a proclamation that the regular contribution toward the relief of the burdens of taxation resting upon the shoulders of all spirits, wines, tobacco and other dutiable articles imported from abroad for the use of the reigning family, of the royal household and of the court. As the royal cellars are of immense extent, and the consumption of costly tobacco at court was and still is extremely large, this action on the part of Edward VII, followed by his successor, constituted a heavy drain upon their official and private income. There can be no comparison, however, between the President of the United States and the monarchs of the Old World in the matter of exemption from taxation. Not only are the civil lists of the royal and imperial rulers very large, indeed—that of the Kaiser at the time of the beginning of the war exceeded $4,000,000, in addition to the revenues from the vast entailed estates of the house of Hohenzollern—that of Emperor Charles being still larger—but there is scarcely one of them who is not engaged in profitable industrial and commercial enterprises of some kind or other.

Thus the principal breweries in Bavaria belong to the reigning Wittelsbach dynasty. In Wurttemberg several of the principal hotels and restaurants are owned by King William; in Austria and Hungary the most important distilleries form part of the family possessions of the house of Hapsburg, while Emperor William is financially interested in any number of industrial, financial and commercial enterprises, owning not only the now important potteries of Kladno, but also the stores in Berlin where the products of the potteries are kept on sale.—Washington Post.

Games That Teach Team Work; Good for Girls As for Boys.

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

From early childhood the sports of boys and girls are carefully but wrongly separated. The result is that the latter grow up physically weaker than they should be. Because women have not "played for a long time" or because they don't know how to play games is no reason why they should not be encouraged to try. The act of play and the concentration it requires, the absence of care and concerns during the process make sport a splendid and valuable recreation as a means to cultivate a greater, wider view of life.

Of the many sports open to women as well as to men, according to the present state of woman's training, tennis seems to be one of the favorites. Although this game does not offer the need for team work to as great an extent as some other sports, it is, nevertheless, a most valuable pastime. Concentration upon the game, the abolition of the mind of home cares and domestic concerns, leave their stamp of refreshment upon the mind of the player, and in the meantime also develop her muscles and her love of outdoor life. It even does more than this. It cultivates the player's desire for fairness of treatment of her opponent, and this is the starting point for the cultivation of the rare virtue of honesty.

If tennis cultivates the love of outdoor life and muscular vigor, as well as love of fair play, hockey has the great additional virtue of the use of team work. Each person must watch her and her direction, and each upon the chance of another while the ball is in a state of whirl, and unless this is strictly adhered to failure is usually the result.

Lack of team work, so well permitted by hockey, and better still by golf, is one of the main reasons why some women in business houses do not seem to progress faster than they do. Somehow there is a greater need for a sense of appreciation of values—especially those involving the appreciative attitude toward a fellow-worker.

Men seem more ready willing to acknowledge the ability of their female coworkers than are members of their own sex.

Pettiness in the form of envy and jealousy often prevents a woman from keen insight into appreciation of another's ability. Pettiness of another's ability. Pettiness would be a thing of the past with many women if they could indulge extensively in outdoor sports.

A good basket ball player is usually known as a "good sport" from the viewpoint of fair play by her companions. She is usually looked upon as a person who is away above pettiness in any of its forms, and more than this, she is courteous, self-reliant and honest. She agaciously means "fair play" in practically all her associations.

Besides these excellent games there is dancing, light gymnastics, archery, swimming, running, bicycling, rowing, sailing, fencing and other games played outdoors or in the gymnasium.

WALLMAN IS EXONERATED BY SUPERIOR

The report of the investigation today by Police Chief J. H. Nedderman into the case of Inspector R. A. Wallman, who was found by Lieutenant W. F. Woods of the moral squad in the apartment of a woman when the place was raided, is in effect an exoneration of Wallman. Commissioner F. E. Jackson, after reading Chief Nedderman's report, stated that no charges had been filed, and that no action in the matter.

Nedderman's report explained that H. A. French, proprietor, on the morning of September 27, returned home at about 10 o'clock, and had seen a man entering the apartment house whom he "was sure he recognized as Wallman," indicating that Wallman was not in fact in the apartment of Mrs. F. McAdam from 7:30, when he first visited the place, till 10:30, when he discovered there by Lieutenant Woods. The chief report further stated that Wallman and Inspector Robinson had called on Mrs. McAdam earlier in the day to question her concerning her knowledge of persons suspected of being auto bandits who are being sought by the police.

No formal charges were filed by Lieutenant Woods against Wallman nor were any filed by French against the inspector.

"There is no evidence of any wrongdoing in the report filed with me by the chief of police," said Commissioner Jackson. "That being the case, there is nothing for me to do."

Chief Nedderman based his report to Commissioner Jackson on an investigation conducted under his instructions by inspectors T. J. Flynn and Tom Wood. The report contains no statement that Lieutenant Woods was questioned further as to what he found when he raided the apartment at the request of Mrs. French and French, nor that persons in the adjoining apartments were questioned.

"Chief White Elk" Put Under Arrest

"Chief White Elk," one of the sensational features of Oakland's second Liberty Loan drive, will be arrested, it is claimed that he had, before dawn on the local horizon, been known as C. W. Ellis, a vaudeville performer, is under arrest in San Francisco on a Federal warrant. According to Federal authorities, who had trailed him since his affair in Oakland, he was known along the border as "Tom Long Boat," a man active among soldiers on the border before the war. He is charged with inducing soldiers to desert on the Mexican border and join the Canadian forces before the United States entered the war.

OAKLANDERS AND BIG GUNS REACH FRONT

A letter received from Captain Walter J. Peterson, former chief of police of this city, shows that the 143d field artillery, of which he is captain and personnel adjutant, is in France and on the way to the American front.

The route of the division to which the 143d field artillery is attached is not entirely clear, but General March announced to Congress three weeks ago that the division has arrived "in England," so it would seem that it may have taken a route through that country. However, it is certain that the 143d field artillery, which is entirely Californian and largely Oakland in its composition, was on its way to the American front and this contingent is probably in the great American drive in the Argonne region under the direct command of General Pershing by this time.

AT ODD CHATEAU.
A few selections from this letter give some idea of what the former Oakland chief of police is doing and how the Oakland boys are conducting themselves:

"We are staying temporarily at an old French chateau. We had a fine trip over and our stay here has been most enjoyable. We have seen the big 155 millimeter guns in action and begin to smell the battles of the future. All our reports from the front are encouraging and the Germans seem to be steadily driving backward. Of course the big test will come when the enemy has straightened out his lines and makes ready for the big offensive that he is expecting. Our men are behaving splendidly and the comradeship between the American and French troops is fine. This trip has been one of many experiences and one that I have looked forward to for a long time.

beautiful old place, so full of ancient memories and traditions. The chateau is owned by an old French count and his lady, who live here quite alone with very few servants, waiting for the war to end so that their only son, now on the line, may be restored to them. The house is a three-story one, with many spires, gables, winding stairs and surprising corners, high vaulted rooms filled with antique furniture that would make a collector of old things green with envy.

GOVERNMENT WILL SETTLE HELLO STRIFE

There will be no further strike action taken by the members of the local Telephone Operators' Union and the linemen's unions of this city and San Francisco, which contemplated a walkout in sympathy with the operators, until such time as the matters in dispute are passed upon by a representative of the War Labor Board. The latter is en route to Oakland and probably will arrive here about the first of next week. At that time the matters in controversy will be laid before him by Edward White, immigration inspector, who is officiating as mediator for the government.

The sending of a federal representative to this city is the direct outcome of telegram sent by representatives of the Telephone Operators' Union to Secretary of Labor Wilson and Postmaster-General Burleson, the postal department being now in charge of all the telegraph and telephone lines. T. L. Robbins, international organizer for the Electrical Workers, with whose organization the telephone operators are affiliated, received the telegram from Washington and announced it at last night's meeting of the operators.

A vote was taken to defer further strike action until after the matters in dispute had been laid before him.

Greenwood and Marr Will Give Recital

Charles Frederick Greenwood, assisted by Sidney Marr, violin, will give an organ recital tonight in the Pioneer Memorial Methodist Church, Telegraph avenue and Thirty-seventh street. Do Christmas Shopping Now

Stores are required to observe the following rules governing holiday trade laid down by National Council of Defense:

- 1—Not to increase their working force for the holiday business.
- 2—Not to increase the normal working hours.
- 3—To confine Christmas giving except for young children to useful articles.
- 4—To spread the period of holiday purchases over the months of October, November and December, in order to relieve the transportation facilities of the country from congestion in the latter half of December.
- 5—To induce customers to carry their own packages wherever possible. The government has also ruled that no gift parcels can be forwarded by Parcel Post or Express after November 30th. Holiday shopping should be done NOW.
- 6—By order of the government, one Christmas package can be sent to the boys "over there." However, packages must be mailed by November 15th. Another argument in favor of your early Christmas selection.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED!
LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, Bilious or Feverish

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of gas, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

"Keep on Writing,"
Plea From France

"More men, more money, more metal," is the plea of Lieutenant Don P. Bass, 39th Engineers, to the hope that some of our letters get through," he pleads. "There seems to be a lot of letters lost en route."

Then comes a letter from Lewis A. Miller with headquarters Company 62. It reads: "We will win, of course. But the people at home must do their part by sending along men, lending their money and taking a swat at those who try to fight us behind our backs in our own country. I shall welcome the day when I can say 'Good morning' to the Statue of Liberty. The French treat us fine. They certainly are fighters."

Radcliffe Resigns, Following Carnahan

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Another resignation in the office of the State Commissioner of Corporations was made public today when it was learned that S. A. Radcliffe, chief deputy in charge of the office at Los Angeles, had tendered his resignation to Governor William D. Stephens. Radcliffe, in his letter of resignation, said he would remain in office until the new commissioner, E. F. Bellows, had taken full charge.

America Will Not Fail

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Again the Government comes to the people of the country with the request that they head their money, and lend it upon a more liberal scale than ever before, in order that the great war for the rights of America and the liberation of the world may be prosecuted with ever increasing vigor to a victorious conclusion. And it makes the appeal with the greatest confidence because it knows that every day it is becoming clearer and clearer to thinking men throughout the nation that the winning of the war is an essential prerequisite. The money that is held back now will be of little use or value if the war is not won and the selfish masters of Germany are permitted to dictate what America may and may not do. Men in America, besides, have from the first and are now dedicated both their lives and their fortunes to the vindication and maintenance of the great principles and objects for which our Government was set up. They will not fail now to show the world for what their wealth was intended.

LODI MAN MAKES GREAT SACRIFICE

Alexander Lingo, killed in action, adds a golden star to California's roll of honor today. Lingo entered the army from Lodi where his nearest of kin, John Lingo, is living.

Word has come to Mrs. Frank C. Ferreira that her son, Private Demas G. Ferreira, who was reported missing in action, is detained in a German prison camp. Ferreira was in the November draft sent to Camp Lewis. He has been in the front line several months. The family home is in Hayward where the 25-year-old son is well known.

Today's casualty list from the war department includes the names of the following Californians: Wounded severely: Jack E. Graham, Florio; John D. Hayward, Big Bear; Clarence E. Liedt; Maurice Coffi, Stockton; Richard I. Corum, Sacramento. Wounded slightly: George Hoffman, Los Angeles.

CHICKENS TIPSY, EVEN OLD HENS STAGGER ABOUT

TRIBUNE BUREAU
SAN JOSE, Oct. 1.—Alcoholism threatening the poultry industry on at least one ranch in Santa Clara county. Pretty young chickens that have never behaved other than demurely in public may now be seen staggering along the highways, flaunting shamelessly the most flagrant cases of intoxication imaginable. Venerable roosters are imbibing too much to maintain the dignity of their positions and even old hens, so tipsy that they are positively silly, are aggravating the situation.

This revelry has been a two-day affair on the ranch of J. I. Clemente, on the east side of the valley, and he ascribes it to the fact that the fowls have been partaking of the fermenting prunes which cover the ground in the Clemente orchard and which were damaged by the storm of a couple of weeks ago.

LABOR NOTES

Last Saturday evening Secretary Spooner represented the Bakers' Union of Alameda county at a conference with the Master Bakers' Association. The men are asking for a $1 per day increase in pay. The Bakers' Association, at the meeting referred to, offered a pay increase of fifty cents per day. The union has the proposal under consideration and will vote on it at a meeting to be held next Saturday evening.

Retail Clerks' Local 47 and Shoe Clerks' Local 1123 have started a campaign to organize the retail clerks of Oakland under closed shop conditions, and also to effect a 6 o'clock closing on Saturday nights. The movement embraces the retail stores in all of the Eastbay communities adjacent to the bay.

J. V. Hendrix, secretary of Structural Iron Workers' Union No. 117, is at the Oakland Central Hospital as the result of a fall from his motorcycle while returning home from the Liberty shipyard. He sustained a fracture of the leg and other less serious injuries.

The colored men employed at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation have organized a band under the leadership of Professor Holley. They are devoting several hours each evening to practice and are said to be making excellent progress. Colored men are now being listed for employment at the Oakland office of the United States Employment Bureau. A considerable number of them were cleared for work there yesterday.

"We've Got the Hun on the Run" This is the slogan adopted by the Shipyard Laborers' Union in its drive for the fourth Liberty loan. It was started Saturday and so far the results are more than satisfactory. Every member is being urged by placards posted in all of the shipyards by personal solicitation and otherwise to come forward and buy bonds in the office, 208 Labor Temple. This live organization is the first union to be able to boast of its own band. Calvin Powell is the leader and there are over thirty pieces in the band. It will be known as the Shipyard Laborers' Union Band.

Fireman's Auto Wrecked in Crash

Battalion Chief Charles Thaler's automobile was smashed last night and the leg of a fire horse was broken when the machine collided with a steam fire engine enroute to a fire at the home of P. V. Fragulia, 710 Forty-fourth streets. Thaler succeeded in avoiding a head-on collision by fast work at the steering wheel, but could not quite get clear. His machine was overturned and wrecked, but he escaped with only minor bruises.

Lightless Nights Will Be Continued

In the interest of power conservation, lightless night will continue in California according to the announcement by State Fuel Administrator Albert B. Schwabacher. It was intended originally that the order would expire today. An increasing need of power for essential industries points to a possibility of extending the orders through the duration of the war.

The saving in power in the last two months that lightless nights have been in effect has not alleviated the situation sufficiently to warrant a suspension of the order, according to the fuel administrator.

GOLD DIEDGERS. Restrictions in the use of power by gold droppers and cement, gravel and crushed rock plants, imposed as the result of an acute water power shortage, have been removed for thirty days as the result of recent rainfall. G. Butler, state power administrator, announced here today.

Bulk of Estate Is Paid Over to Widow

The final account of the Union Savings Company of San Francisco, executors of the will of the late George H. Kraft, was approved today by Judge Dudley Kinsell for distribution. The will leaves the bulk of the $260,000 estate to the widow, who receives the income for life. Her four children by her former husband, unless she desires to change the will. Sums of money were bequeathed to educational institutions and to charities. One bequest of $1000 went to the Red Bluff Library, the deceased having been a resident of that city before coming to Oakland. He died in San Diego, California, 1917.

The restrictions will be suspended if there is rainfall sufficient to justify such a move, but will be imposed again in the event of an insufficient precipitation, Butler said.

Coal Dealers Are Given New Warning

Warning was issued yesterday by State Fuel Administrator Albert B. Schwabacher that coal dealers who fail to register in accordance with rules recently prescribed, and who continue to supply their customers, face the possibility of being put out of business.

Schwabacher said that these rules also apply to private people who have been in the habit of supplying coal to their friends in the past. Inspectors are on the alert throughout the state in an endeavor to ferret out violators of this new order of the Fuel Administration.

WILL ENTERTAIN FIGHTERS. Miss Hazel Van Hatten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Hatten, 598 Thirty-fourth street, leading woman in the Robert L. Lawrence dramatic company of Vallejo, and Lawrence are to present a program of specialties and songs this week for the sailors and marines at Mare Island.

BRIDE'S TALE OF CRUELTY WINS WAY IN COURT

The lute, upon which Cupid, like the Pied Piper, played a love lilt that led them away in an elopement six months ago, lost its road and the sweet notes got to jangling out of tune. Such was the substance of the complaint in the divorce suit of Mrs. Bonnie Elsie Horwinski against Robert Horwinski, filed recently some weeks ago, and tried yesterday afternoon by Judge Everett J. Brown. The run-away bride testified that her husband was mentally cruel to her, and that his manner toward her, while not physically cruel, caused her great distress of mind. The suit was uncontested and Mr. Horwinski was given an interlocutory decree.

20 U. S. Planes in France Every Day

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Do Haviland four planes are arriving in France at the rate of approximately twenty per day and are performing excellently in combat. Major General William L. Kenley, head of the air service, announced today. Of 750 planes received in France, only one was in such bad condition that it had to be rejected. This was due to damage received in transit.

"For six years we have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in our family and feel we could not possibly do without it, especially for the children." (From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mrs. Earl Cowell, Cement City, Mich.)

Children become constipated as readily as do their elders, and the result is equally distressing. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for children because of its pleasant taste, positive, yet gentle, action, and its freedom from opiates and narcotic drugs.
